PART-TIME ONLINE HYBRID MBA

I value the tight-knit Tepper community the most. The Online Hybrid cohort is uniquely small but also incredibly diverse. I love developing connections and learning from peers with such different backgrounds.

You’re excellent at what you do. You have the drive to achieve your potential, a curiosity about the unknown and a limited attachment to comfort zones. We call that a “good start.”

But you also realize the need to back up your decisions with more than a gut feeling and the need to strengthen your leadership skills in order to get things done. That’s what makes you the Tepper type.

Tepper MBAs possess an unrivaled advantage honed through our renowned approach to leadership development alongside advanced analytics. It’s an approach that prepares our graduates to make better business decisions and maximizes leadership skills for successful implementation of those decisions across the organization — all of which you can fit into your busy schedule without walking away from a job you do exceptionally well.

That’s why the name “Tepper” means more in the market — and why a Tepper MBA gives you the uncommon skills that allow you to stand apart.

There’s only one.

Our online MBA program is unique because all content is taught by our renowned faculty and weekly online class sessions are augmented by in-person Access Weekends. This combination makes the Tepper Online MBA different from the rest.

Every week, you’ll take live online classes where you’ll see and interact with your professors and peers. Offline, you’ll work at your own pace and within your busy schedule. Your online and offline content are taught by the same person, a faculty member who also teaches the course in the full-time program, so you are never short-changed on quality in the coursework.

In addition, at the end of every mini-semester (about every six weeks) you’ll join your cohort for in-person classes, giving you the opportunity to connect with your cohort and faculty. So, no matter where you are, you’ll get the best of both worlds — the camaraderie of the classroom and the convenience of learning from home.
Stand together.

No matter which format you choose, the Tepper School provides the opportunity to be surrounded by some of the sharpest, most talented people you’ll ever meet. For the Online MBA program, that is enhanced during Access Weekends held in Pittsburgh, Silicon Valley, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C., in between each mini-semester (six times per year).

During an Access Weekend, you’ll wrap up current classes and start the upcoming mini-semester coursework in person with faculty who know you by name, alongside your fellow students who will motivate and elevate your thinking. You start and end all your classes together, giving you the opportunity to make those connections you will need to be successful during the semester.

Access Weekends also include more than academics. You’ll visit companies and hear from speakers related to the industries you are studying, and participate in social events with Tepper MBAs in the full-time and part-time on-campus programs. You’ll also meet and network with Tepper School alumni who will be ready to share their expertise — not to mention their advice and networking contacts for career opportunities.
Dive deeper and emerge above the rest.

Our curriculum develops leadership with an elevated analytics skill set. That’s because we know that this combination is highly sought-after in the marketplace.

Optimization, predictive and prescriptive modeling, and a deep economic understanding are among the analytical tools all of our students master. With a firm command of analytics, you’ll possess unmatched problem-solving abilities that enable you to identify optimal solutions.

At the same time, you’ll build the leadership skills to put those strategies in motion. Our Accelerate Leadership Center provides expertise and training from coaches, instructors and mentors who are your partners for one-on-one assessment, development, planning and implementation.

That’s not something you’ll find at other programs. And neither is this: You’ll learn these skills from the same faculty who teach our full-time students — not adjuncts. And you’ll learn them after business hours, with time slots set for both the east and west coast. So even if you’re traveling, you won’t be late for class.

A stand-out career.

Over 150,000 people will earn an MBA next year. Tepper MBAs are among the few who rise above that crowd. The Tepper School prepares you to perform at a higher level through a command of cutting-edge analytics and advanced leadership abilities. As a Tepper MBA, you’ll have the rare tools and problem-solving skills sought by employers. And as a part-time student, you’ll have the added advantage of proving those abilities on the job by applying in real time what you learn in the classroom.

You’ll also have access to the exact same career resources available to our full-time students through our acclaimed Career Opportunities Center (COC). Career coaching, on-campus recruiting, corporate presentations and connections to top jobs at premier companies — all are accessible to our part-time students.

Access Weekend classes allow for a more personal learning experience between you, your professors and your classmates. The weekends build on the study experience by integrating professional development programming with Tepper School and Carnegie Mellon University alumni.

No matter how you earn it, it’s a Tepper MBA.

Whether full- or part-time, all of our programs deliver the same focus on leadership and analytics, and the same core curriculum taught by world-renowned faculty. So you know that you’ll graduate with the unique skills to stand apart in the marketplace.

In fact, because the learning is the same, you can switch to full-time for any reason — like an internship opportunity or career change. And you won’t miss a beat in the transition.

While we’re known for our rigorous curriculum, we welcome students from varied backgrounds who share a motivation to learn and a desire to gain the analytical and leadership skills that the Tepper School offers. That’s why when we admit you to the program, we know that you have what it takes to succeed while continuing to excel in your career.

As a Tepper MBA, you also get every advantage of a global alumni network to support you. No matter where you live, you’ll have access to alumni leaders around the world at a moment’s notice. That’s a critical resource to have in today’s global economy.
I’ve picked up the skills that I need to compete in the business world. An Online Hybrid MBA has set me up for success in the future.

You’re in tight with an impressive crowd.

Every year, our new alumni start careers around the globe. But the remarkable thing is, the bonds they formed in B-school branch out and grow stronger. That’s what makes our alumni network such an incredible asset. Wherever you go, you’ll find it easy to make connections. Our alumni speak your language and open doors, anywhere in the world.
Professionally, the rigor and diversity of the curriculum challenged me to grow and explore new industries and fields. Personally, the welcoming culture of the school encouraged me to forge relationships with classmates that span continents.
